New "Essensity" Organic Hair Color

Schwarzkopf is the first major product company to introduce and organic color range and it's a huge step forward for hairdressing. The color and products give incredible results, without costing the earth. Thus Essentials will be offering the color to our clients at the same price as regular color - as we believe that you should have the choice despite the current economic climate.

The Essensity range is free from artificial fragrance, silicones, paraffin/mineral oils and parabens, using pure organic essences and essential oils and a high percentage of natural ingredients. The in-salon color is the first fragrance and ammonia-free hair color with more than 90% naturally derived ingredients that will blend away 90% of white hair. As they're also free from PPDs, the ingredient usually responsible for adverse reactions in people with a sensitivity to color, the color is more suitable for those with allergies, expecting mothers, sensitive skin - although a skin test is still advisable.

Essensity color is just like any other color range; the difference being that when your hair grows out it will have a natural looking color, mimicking natural hair and it will not have the harsh re-growth line - that can be seen when using other permanent colors, after 4-6 weeks of growth - showing the white roots! Essensity will fade gradually and be seen naturally through the white hairs, giving you the natural look. It lasts just as long as the permanent color.

The care and styling products are 100% free from artificial fragrances and colorants, silicones, paraffin/mineral oils, PEGs and parabens and contain organic essences of ingredients known for their particular therapeutic properties.
